Mayo Clinic Nicotaline Research Program

Click here to learn more...

Share | F | | | | Print | A A A Text Size

Stuck Indoors?

1-800-PetMeds FREE SHI

Tick in ear causes ringing
Botox as bladder control? •
Testosterone affects lying

Testosterone affects lying Breakups hurt on Facebook C Eunuchs live longer

Health Features

Will the Presidential Foreign Policy Debate touch the Energy Policy Question?

Recommend Be the first of your friends to recommend this.

Information contained on this page is provided by companies via press release distributed through PR Newswire, an independent third-party content provider. PR Newswire, WorldNow and this Station make no warranties or representations in connection therewith.

SOURCE Rowdy House Music

Presidential Debate Question on Energy Policy Answered by Rowdy House

STATELINE. Nev., Oct. 22, 2012 / PRNevswire/ — Every American's interest peeled during the second presidential debate when one questioner asked about record three times estima (if so the policy of his department to help lower gas prices. Do you agree with Secretary Chu that this is not the job of the Energy Department? Many argue that nether presidential candidate adequately answered the question

The aptly limed song "Energy Policy" answers the town hall debate question. It highlights the fact that current pol does not prioritize energy introducity and as a result, today's fuel priorise negatively impact just about everyone. I Rowly House Music release "Energy Policy" relies or reague tradition to deliver its discussion on U.S. energy of which is impacted by foreign policy." The subject of the third presidential debate on October 22. "Energy Policy" is playing on stations nationwide.

America's energy policy has been "practically challenged" by China's pursuit of oil which is undercutting U.S. security interests and economic future on multiple fronts. China needs a lot of energy because Americans buy so many products from them. That's also why china is the largest kneep holder of US debt, its oil consumption grows seven times faster than the U.S., and its growth projections are off the charts.

Sustaining an extremely high level of economic growth may be necessary to contain civil unrest in China, even though they continue to suppress dissenting opinions and human rights voladions are widespread. China has more people than any other country on the planet. And while high gasoline prices have Americans transitioning from cars to bicycles, the Chinese are transitioning from bicycles to cars. In a few decades, China will have more cars on its roads than there are cars on the planet today. Therefore, they want more oil.

While Americans are questioning US Energy Policy in the 2012 Presidential Election Debates, and asking if their government is doing anything to help lower gas prices. China has been working diligently to secure its energy future. They have been aggressive in the South China Sea which is nich in oil and gas, but their ownership is disputed. In addition, China has also been assertive in securing reserves around the world.

China has been securing oil reserves in the American market proximity, which will force the U.S. to seek more oil from the Middle East. China's aims sales to the region and its support of state sponsors of terrorsm are highly toubling. With radical slasins, o'deologies gaining a contribing bordind and and-funetic violence threatening American presence in the Middle East, the price of oil will be going up, and the 2012 Presidential Election Debates will be healing up.

Will the Energy Folky question be answered in the context of the broader Presidential Foreign Folky Debate? Adding an extra dimension on the Salurday before the final debate on foreign policy, the Obama administration commanded a Florida debate before Blazaric Obama and hittle Tomery Including hot topics like Iran, Sirva and the Libya scandal, there may not be enough time to answer the Energy Policy question. But the question on everyone's mind each time they fill up that tank is, "Will be able to altor direct times."

Rowdy House released the rock single "Don't Let a Liar Lead You" and the controversial YouTube video just before the new song Energy Policy and the presidential debates.

Rowly House Music contributors are nonpatisan, professional musicians who contribute anonymously to expand national awareness regarding government waste and corruption. Rowly House creates great music which is a clusily relevant and meaningful. They share intelligent discussions explaining the meaning of each of their snops. Discussions can be found in their "Learn More & Download" section by scrolling down under each song on their website.

©2012 PR Newswire. All Rights Reserved.

Time is running out to apply for Texas program to the time of the control of the

Homeowners in Texas may be eligible for 2.00%(2.21% APR) refinance rate for most credit types

All content © Copyright 2001 - 2012 WorldNow and KTTC, a Quincy station.

All Rights Reserved. For more information on this site, please read our Privacy Policy and Terms of Service.

Persons with disabilities who need assistance with issues relating to the content of this station's public inspection file should contact Administrative Assistant Lynn Jacobs at (507) 280-5104. Questions or concerns relating to the accessibility of the FCC's online public file system should be directed to the FCC at 888-225-5322, at 888-325-5322 (TTY) or at